- Handbooks, Study Schemes
- Course selection and course add/drop
- Academic results
- Online application for programme change, course and unit exemptions, leave of absence, official documents, etc.

Teachers and staff of Graduate Divisions can also login CUSIS for information and functions for their reference and use.

14.2 Graduate School Platform

The GS Platform (Students) allows students to obtain the following information and services on the Graduate School website:

- Rules and regulations, guidelines
- Announcements

Teachers and staff of Graduate Divisions may also login to the GS Platform (Divisions) for information and reference.

14.3 Student Advisory System

The University has put in place a Programme/Division-level advisory system, which focuses on academic advising, to support students’ academic development and to overcome academic problems. Advisors, apart from giving advice on academic matters, can become resource persons and provide information on other whole-person development opportunities to students.

Under the implementation plan approved by the Senate, every student is assigned one academic advisor (Level I Advisor) by the Graduate Division. Graduate Divisions are also requested to nominate designated academic advisors (Level II Advisor) for students who need further support. Graduate Divisions/Programmes will have the flexibility to decide on the details of the appointment of Levels I and II advisors, such as whether Levels I and II advisors are to be the same person for a particular student, and the number of academic advisors for the Graduate Division, etc., so as to suit the different needs of Graduate Divisions/Programmes.

14.4 University Library

The Chinese University of Hong Kong Library is one of the major academic research libraries in East Asia. It comprises the University Library and six other Libraries – Ch'ien Mu Library at New Asia College, Elisabeth Luce Moore Library at Chung Chi College, Wu Chung Library at United College, Li Ping Medical Library at the teaching hospital in Shatin, Architecture Library and Lee Quo Wei Law Library.

With over 2.7 million print volumes, 4.8 million ebooks, more than 150,000 electronic journal subscriptions and 900 databases, the Library welcomes around 2.3 million visits per year. Collections reflect CUHK's bilingual and multicultural environment. The electronic collections can be accessed and library resources (LibrarySearch) can be searched online at www.lib.cuhk.edu.hk. Books can be borrowed from any of the libraries. As part of the Hong Kong Academic Library Link (HKALL) students can also use books from the other seven UGC-funded university libraries in Hong Kong.

In addition to a roving help team, librarians offer specialist support in person, via email or phone. Library orientation sessions are organised for new students at the beginning of each academic year. Workshops are held throughout the year, so that students can find, use and apply the information they need effectively. Information guides and news about all of the Libraries are available on the Library website.

14.5 Language training

Language courses for non-major students are mainly organised by the English Language Teaching Unit (ELTU) and Yale-China Chinese Language Centre (CLC). There are practical language courses, such as Postgraduate Presentation Skills and Putonghua/Cantonese for non-native speakers, or courses in special topics like Chinese Reading and Chinese Culture.

A Supervisor may include additional language courses in a student's study scheme as considered necessary or appropriate to improve the student's ability to understand the literatures in the student's field of research as well as in the presentation of his/her own ideas and research outputs. Students may also take the initiative to request the Supervisor to add language courses in their study scheme. In both scenarios, the additional workload to be imposed on the students must be considered.

Interested students please visit the website of ELTU at www.cuhk.edu.hk/eltu/ and CLC at www.cuhk.edu.hk/clc/new/en/.
